Trail Roundup Draws Over 100

By Floyd Davis

Oldtimers hearts would have been thrilled to have watched the horses and riders coming in from the East, West, North, and South to the fall roundup held at the state park on the west bank of the Manistee River northwest of Grayling. Horses of all sizes and colors from the leopard striped stallion from Traverse City, to the black pony from Gladwin, to the black pony who rode or drove to the park. What a thrill it was to see the different parties come into the camp-site along the river, toward evening, with the weather perfect and the trees at the height of their fall color. The wonderful aroma that greeted them wasn't just the smell of the great outdoors of the north, but was coming from the camp cooks Bar-B-Que Pit with the many chickens turning a beautiful golden brown on the grill. That meal was something to carry in ones memory for many years. Baked beans, potatoes, and many will have to be replaced. At the left rear can be seen one of the uprooted trees. A short time before the funnel touched down, it was observed high in the sky by Grayling Township Supervisor Bernie Fowler at his home on the AuSable.

TORNADO STRIKES COUNTY — When a cold front line squall moved across Crawford County about dusk last Wednesday evening, a tornado touched down in Maple Forest Township breaking off or tearing out of the ground about 16 very large trees at the Ivan Hamblin home. In the photo above can be seen, the one large tree which struck the house. The blow caused some damage to roof rafters and many will have to be replaced. At the left rear can be seen one of the uprooted trees. A short time before the funnel touched down, it was observed high in the sky by Grayling Township Supervisor Bernie Fowler at his home on the AuSable.

Grayling Vikings To Face Blue Devils At Gaylord Friday Night

The Grayling Vikings are slated to travel to Gaylord this Friday night to meet the Blue Devils in a Northern Class C Conference clash. Both teams will be moving into the Friday battle under the lights following defeats last Friday.

Gaylord is slightly favored due to their better record thus far this season. However, the Vikings showed their mettle last Friday night against the Charlevoix Rayders. Although the score was 23 to 6, the green and white clad Grayling players turned in a real hardnosed game. They hit the Rayders with everything they had and several Charlevoix players wound up on the sidelines.

The Manicella Ironmen downed the Grayling Blue Devils last Friday night in the final few minutes by a 18 to 13 score. East Jordan and Boyne City kept their records clean and continued to pace the field as the Red Devils halted Harbor Springs 27 to 0 and the Ramblers downed Pellston 13-0.

Grayling coach Don Ferguson is shaking his head this week, wondering how to win a ball game. His Vikings rolled up nearly 300 yards on offense against the Rayders Friday night at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area but had but one touchdown to show for it. The answer was fumbles. Grayling would put on a sustained

Set New Course Record Again

Minnesota Canoe Racer Shares AuSable Crown

Another time record again was set in the 18th annual running of the AuSable Valley Canoe Race.

Ron Hohman of Oscoda, one of last year's winners teamed with Irvin Peterson of Coon Rapids, Minn., to cover the 240 mile twisting, twisting course in 15 hours, 10 minutes and 51 seconds. The previous record set last year by Hohman and Ralph Sawyer, also of Oscoda was 15 hours, 25 minutes and 17 seconds.

This year's race also marked the first time that an out state man shared in the canoe race title. Of the twenty-seven canoes that left the starting mark in Grayling last Saturday morning, only 17 hit the finishing line in Oscoda on Sunday.

This is the seventh time Peterson, a well-known canoe racer, has competed in the AuSable race. He and Hohman shared a $1,200 prize.

Blessed with perfect fall weather, the race attracted huge crowds at the finish line where a new regulation required the contestants to a finish line along US-33.

Many of those who gathered for the finish had combined the race with a color tour through the flaming hues of the Northern Michigan forests.

Hohman and Peterson starting in second position, overtook Gerald Lauwers, of Tawas City and Stanley Hall, of Oscoda, before the race was a half-hour old.

Hall and Lauwers had won the pole position in a preliminary race.

They came in second at 15 hours 21 minutes and two seconds to win $800.

Purses and trophies were presented to the winners by Louis Vaupre, division manager of Consumers Power Co., at an awards ceremony after the race.

Walter Nowak was master of ceremonies while Harry Curley, of Oscoda, was general chairman. Speakers included State Sen. Harold Hughes, of Clare, and Barry McGuire of the East - Michigan Tourist Ass'n.

Other winners and the amounts of the purses are:

Third, Karl N. Ketter, Minneapolis, Minn., and Al Widling, Holly, $300.

Fourth, Chuck Crellin, Mt. Clemens, and Jim Crellin, St. Clair Shores, $200.

Fifth, Ken Kolonich and his father Steve Kolonich, both of East Tawas, $175.

Sixth, Charles H. Cersteeg, East Lansing, and Clinton Waddell, Lansing, $150.

Seventh, Ken Brown and Chuck Honninger, both of Oscoda, $125.

Eighth, Ron Raynak, Greenbush, and Gerry Grant, Oscoda, $100.

Ninth, Norman E. Brown, Greenbush, and Richard E. Whitney, Belding, $100.

Tenth, Jack and Bruce Kent, both of Atlanta, $100.

The shape of the race was drawn Friday in the six mile position sprint around Lake Margrethe when Hall and Lauwers were continually pressed by the Hohman-Peterson duo.

Hall and Lauwers took the top share of the $300 preliminary money, touching home base a scant 10 seconds ahead of Hohman and Peterson.

Third place finishers in the preliminary race were Jack and Bruce Kent of Atlanta. Fourth were Karl Ketter of Minneapolis and Al Widling of Holly; fifth were Ed Adams of Holly and Cecil Lane of Flint; sixth were Chuck and Jim Crellin of Mt. Clemens and St. Clair Shores respectively.

In the Junior boys race John and Darwin Gilbert of Traverse City repeated as champs. They won first place last year also. Second were Douglas Stephan and Ricky Rybolt, both of Grayling; third were Jim Corlew and Gerald King, also of Grayling.

Doug McDougal and David Hennigan, both of Oscoda, won the senior boys race; second were Pat Thompson and Steve DuBois of Grayling; third were Steve La-

Newspaper - People Affinity

By Roscoe Drummond

More Americans are reading newspapers more thoroughly than ever before.

There must be a reason. Despite the decline in the total number of newspapers, total newspaper circulation in the United States today is at an all-time high.

There must be a reason. The reason must have something to do with newspapers — and people.

There is a special affinity between them, between newspapers and people. People must feel a great identity of interest with their newspapers. One of the reasons may well be that the printed word requires more of its readers than any other media. Readers get more out of newspapers because they put more of themselves — more of their own thinking — into their newspapers.

I do not speak disparagingly of other news media; quite the opposite. I think that radio and television reporting is a tremendous boon to our democracy.

Radio and television reporting greatly expands the surface of public knowledge.

In my judgment most newspapers greatly expand the depth of public knowledge.

The fullest, the most dramatic, the most conclusive evidence that newspapers are really crucial to the lives of most Americans — and, indeed, to their very way of life — is what happened in New York, Minneapolis and Cleveland when newspapers strikes left these cities newspaper-less for months.

Something very meaningful, something taken for granted when it was present but greatly prized when, abruptly, it was absent, went out of the lives of millions of people in these communities when there were no newspapers.

I believe the reason is that while the printed word can be supplemented by other media, it cannot be replaced as the most reliable, the most accessible, the most meaty and the most satisfying source of information and insight in this very anxious world.

During the long strikes the newspaper was grievously missed — and nothing was able to take its place.

That is what I mean when I say there is a special affinity between newspapers — between the printed word — and people.

Nothing could take their place and it is our duty to make newspapers continuously better so that nothing can take their place.

The Hunters' Dairy is now proudly settled into its new quarters on Cedar street. Ever since last spring builders had been busy constructing the new building that was to be this dairy. The structure is of cream-color brick with white glazed brick front. The inner wall is of concrete block. The building is 40 x 64 feet in size. The roof is self-supported by three huge I-beams. The front is beautiful with white glazed brick in which are set large plate-glass windows set in aluminum. The front room is planned for a dairy bar. The dairy proper adjoins this in the rear. An observation window in this room enables customers and visitors to view the operating room adjoining. Here is the brand new pasteurizing machine of stainless steel, also a large new milk cooler of the latest type. The boiler and fuel room are in a separate building, adjoining the main structure. Mr. Amos Hunter, the enterprising owner, is to be congratulated for his progressiveness. Melvin Marshall was the general contractor.

The airports will be designed to provide intermediate fields suitable to military uses as well as to assist civil aviation. Some of the tentative Michigan projects include Grayling, $195,000.

In last week's issue telling of the party at the Grayling Hunt Club, it was John Erkes, instead of Supt. Schable, who was the host. The party was the result of a bet between John Erkes and Earl Wood in a golf game played two years ago. Earl won the game, therefore it was up to John to put on the party. It took two years to collect the bet, but the party seems to have been worth the wait, according to reports from those present.

WORTH LOOKING INTO

A good detective knows that sometimes the seemingly insignificant is perhaps most important.

The average housewife is no detective; yet some of them can put Sherlock Holmes-type ingenuity to work when they set out to do the family shopping.

The wise shopper, however, not only looks for bargains—but is able to recognize one. A bargain buy is worth the money only if it is something needed, and if it is a quality item.

Here's a clue, for free: The best place to look for bargain is right here in our town—with reputable, established merchants. It's an open and shut case. The local merchant sells quality today because he wants your business tomorrow.

G. H. S. Band News

Friday afternoon the band participated in a parade for the canoe racers.
At the football game last Friday night the band put on a half-time show. It started with the playing of a fanfare, then as the band marched down the field we played "Red, White and Blue". We then formed a U. S. and played "America", facing the Charlevoix side, then formed a C and played their school song. The band next did a counter march over to the Grayling side, formed a V and played "Victory", then a G and played our school song. We finally marched off the field playing "Parade Routine".
After Saturday's new car parade we had a mass band concert with Roscommon on the court house lawn. We played four tunes: "The Star Spangled Banner", "76 Trombones", "Little Champ" and "Military Escort".
After the concert we had a lunch at the high school gym furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and served by the band boosters. The band would like to extend its deepest thanks to these two groups.

Grow and David Cinciala, also of Grayling.

Herbert Wolf of Grayling acted as master of ceremonies at the starting of the race in Grayling on Saturday morning. Giving the invocation was Rev. Charles McMahon of St. Francis Episcopal Church of Grayling.

Col. Carl Rasak of the Adj. Gen. of Michigan's staff was the official starter for the race. He was assisted by the Queens of the three participating cities, Grayling's Penny Pettyjohn, Mio's Darlene Owen and Oscoda's Cathy Rose.

The weekend activities got underway Friday noon with a kick-off luncheon at the Grayling Woman's Club. Speaker was Troy Vester of Roscommon. The pole position race on Lake Margrethe followed. Following the races at the lake a motorcade brought the participants back into Grayling.

Saturday morning's program got underway with a pancake and sausage breakfast at the Grayling Legion Hall served by the Kiwanis Club of Grayling. The start of the 16th annual AuSable Valley Canoe Race followed. After all of the canoes had gotten underway, a parade was formed at the Legion Hall and proceeded through downtown Grayling. It featured both the Grayling High Band and the Gerish Higgins Band from Roscommon. All of the 1964 automobiles of the Crawford County Auto Dealers Ass'n were in the line of march as well as several old time cars. The parade concluded at the lawn of the Crawford County Court House where the combined bands gave a concert.

The new car models were spotted on Michigan Ave. between Cedar St. and Peninsular Ave. where a car show was held all Saturday afternoon from 2 to 6 p.m. At noon a luncheon for the Auto Show principals was held at the Arrowhead Inn. Following the luncheon, A. T. Olson, Flint zone manager for the Chevrolet Motor Division, crowned Marcia Sorenson, daughter of the Alfred Sorensons of Grayling as the 1964 Crawford County Auto Show Queen. Serving on her court of honor were:

Linda Brocker, Janet C. Stephan and Marilyn Houle.

Water Resources Review

Statement of Conditions for the month of September 1963 from the Lansing, Michigan office.

MICHIGAN: Ground-water levels were at record lows in key wells in the eastern part of the upper peninsula and in the southern half of the lower peninsula. In the southeastern part of the lower peninsula low stages have persisted for over a year. Elsewhere in the state stages were above average in the north-central part of the lower peninsula and somewhat below average in the upper peninsula. The low levels were the result of accumulated deficiencies of precipitation throughout most of the state.

The key wells used for this review are located in areas of little or no pumping effect and reflect changes in aquifer storage primarily in response to natural conditions. Records of ground-water levels that reflect natural climatic conditions serve as a basis for comparison with records of levels that are affected by pumping withdrawals.

Statement of Conditions for the year ending Sept. 30, 1963 from the Lansing, Michigan office.

In the northern part of the Lower Peninsula levels were below average at the beginning of the year, but the spring rise continued until early summer resulting in high stages by the end of the year.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Strong:

The Grayling Band led the parade for the Canoe Race and new Car Show on Saturday, October 5th. The spectators silently watched "our" children march by, but loudly applauded Gerish Higgins Band.

Gerish Higgins Band deserved the applause. They looked wonderful, and played well. But what about Grayling's Band?

Who is expected to march and play for the Winter Sports Parade? Who is expected to march and play for the Memorial Day Parade? Who is expected to march and play for the Canoe Race Parade on Friday and again on Saturday?

These performances take time to prepare and perform. The band receives no money for helping Grayling put on these affairs, nor do they receive any thanks.

The only reward for Grayling's Band is to get too hot, too cold, too wet, too tired and too discouraged.

Even at school activities, no one lets them know they have done a good job. But just imagine a football or basketball game without the band music.

The City of Grayling needs the band. Grayling High School needs the band.

We all better start showing these kids and Mr. Christian that we appreciate them and their efforts. Let's all applaud and cheer them the next time they play. They deserve it!

Sincerely

will not have to walk, and then budget $100,000 for a gym so they can get exercise, do now seek Your guidance in all matters, that Your creation might be used with wisdom for the welfare of Your peo-

Senator Hughes Seeks Voters Tax Views

To the Voters in the 28th District:

On Sept. 11, Governor Romney called the legislature back into session and offered a Fiscal Reform-Program. The program consists of 23 bills which seek to shift the tax load and relieve certain business taxes, remove sales tax on food consumed off the premises, and prescription drugs; defer payment of real estate taxes for people over 65; give credit for payment on school tax which will be refunded by the State; repeal business activities tax and intangible tax, and require assessing officers to follow a procedure set by the State. This program would be financed by a 2 per cent income tax, a 3 1/2% corporation tax, and a 3 1/4% financial institution income tax.

There are no provisions to create a ceiling on the proposed income tax. County tax losses could be financed by a local motor vehicle tax and deed transfer taxes, plus appropriations from the State.

You have had an opportunity to read about the program in the State and local papers. It has been my desire to fully represent my district, and I therefore urge you to write me and express your views on the proposed program so that when I vote on these bills, it will be the vote of the district as expressed in your letters.

Sincerely,

Harold B. Hughes
